No Retaliation For Anti-Soviet Actions Seen

U.S., Britain Targets Of Pravda Charges Over Nagy Execution

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government stationed two additional militiamen in front of the Canadian Embassy today but it appeared unlikely so far that a demonstration was in the offing in retaliation for the attack on the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa.

Nor was there any indication that the U.S. Embassy would be the target of a Soviet crowd, as the West German Embassy was Monday and the Danish Embassy was Friday.

Demonstrators have attacked Soviet embassies in Copenhagen, Bonn, Ottawa and New York with stones and ink in protest against the execution of Imre Nagy and three other leaders of the 1956 Hungarian revolution.

Only the Copenhagen and Bonn incidents have been reported by the Soviet press and radio, however. It was unlikely that any spontaneous demonstration against the Canadian and American establishments would be ordered without first setting the stage by publicizing the cause for retaliation.

Guards Total Four

The extra guards brought the total outside the Canadian Embassy to four. Their presence aroused some suspicion, since similar extra guards had arrived at the Danish and West German buildings a few hours in advance of the demonstrators.

The Canadians said they had not asked for the extra protection. The West German Embassy had, but the four guards there had little effect on the crowd of 1,500 which hurled sticks, stones and ink at the building for two hours. Police reinforcements finally dispersed the demonstrators after they broke all windows in the building.

West German Ambassador Hans Kroll said he delivered the "strongest possible protest" to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister A. V. Zakharov. He asked an apology, damages and a guarantee that the attack would not be repeated.

Expressed Regrets

The West German government had expressed its regrets promptly at the attack on the Soviet Embassy in Bonn and promised to repair the damage.

The continuing wave of recriminations in the wake of the Hungarian executions brought a strong protest from the Yugoslav government to Hungary and a charge by Pravda that the United States and Britain were whipping up an "hysterical hullabaloo" to renew the cold war and sabotage a summit conference.

Agency Granted No Privileges, Gadsby States

Testimony Marks Start of New Phase Of Probe by House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Securities and Exchange Commission Chairman Edward N. Gadsby hotly denied today that the SEC favored Bernard Goldfine, Sherman Adams' Boston industrialist friend, after getting a White House call in 1956.

"To put it bluntly," Gadsby told House investigators, "the commission could hardly have done more if Mr. Adams were Mr. Goldfine's worst enemy. . .

"I had thought that the era of trial by innuendo and inference had been disowned sometime ago. I dislike to see any members of persons connected with the Congress. . . participate in a baseless attack reflecting on this agency's probity."

Gadsby's testimony prepared for the House subcommittee checking Goldfine's relations with federal regulatory agencies marked the opening of another phase of the inquiry, this time dealing with the SEC.

Previously the group had inquired into Federal Trade Commission affairs involving Goldfine.

Attacks SEC, FTC

Subcommittee Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) has accused both the SEC and the FTC of giving preferred treatment to Goldfine.

The investigators have developed testimony that Adams got expensive favors from Goldfine. Adams has said, however, that he accepted gifts innocently from an old friend. He has said he sought no preferred treatment when he contacted the two federal agencies about Goldfine cases.

The SEC case involved a complaint against a Goldfine holding company, the East Boston Co., for not filing required financial reports from 1948 to 1955.

The case was finally settled in April 1956 when SEC agreed to a $3,000 fine from East Boston plus compliance with reporting requirements—not as staff a penalty as had been proposed in earlier phases of the drawn-out court case.

In February, two months earlier, SEC got a White House call about the case which was prompted by Adams.

Says Service Routine

Gadsby testified that the information given the White House — and also to Sens. Frederick G. Payne (R-Maine) and Norris Cotton (R-NH) at a conference a few days earlier—was only what is routinely provided in such cases.

"I find no shred of evidence to suggest preferential treatment of

Senate Passes Bill to Share Atomic Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, adding two restrictions of its own, has passed a bill to permit greater sharing of U.S. military atomic secrets with Allied nations.

The measure now goes to conference with the House, which rejected any amendments in passing the same measure overwhelmingly last week.

The two changes were proposed by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM). One would permit the President to transfer non-nuclear parts of atomic weapons only to Great Britain. The original bill would have authorized them to be sent to any friendly nation.

The other struck out a catch-all section allowing the President to give allies data on "other military applications of atomic energy." Anderson said this power was too broad and that it was not clear how it would be used.

The bill would allow transfer to Britain of designs for nuclear weapons, fissionable material to make them, and non-nuclear components of weapons.

To other allies, the United States could give data on sizes and effects of atomic weapons, reactor designs, and atomic fuels for nuclear-powered submarines and other types of military power plants.

Dag Hammarskjold Goes Back to Beirut

BEIRUT (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold returned to Beirut today after two days of trying to persuade President Nasser to help bring peace to Lebanon.

There was no indication that Hammarskjold had won any agreement from the President of the United Arab Republic to use his influence with the Lebanese rebels seeking to replace the pro-Western government of President Camille Chamoun with a regime more sympathetic to Nasser.

U. A. R. officials said Nasser had reiterated to Hammarskjold his insistence that the Lebanese rebels are getting no aid from his forces and that the Lebanese rebellion is entirely an internal crisis.

Hammarskjold on his return met first with the three heads of the U. N. observers group seeking to check on any infiltration of aid to the rebels from the U. A. R.

Later today he was to see Premier Sami Solh and President Chamoun.

The U. N. official is scheduled to return to New York Wednesday.

Cost of Living Hits New Mark

Increase Smallest Since Last December

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's living costs hit another new record in May but registered the smallest monthly rise since December.

The latest government reading on living costs, released today, held out hope that the two-year inflationary spiral has leveled out for the summer. Food items as a whole failed to increase in May for the first time since November.

The Labor Department index rose one-tenth of 1 per cent to 123.6 per cent of the 1947-49 base. This is 3.3 per cent higher than May last year. It represents the 19th straight rise in the index in the past 21 months.

The index has not declined in any month since August 1956.

The living cost rise means an automatic pay boost for an estimated 850,000 workers mainly in the steel, aluminum, can manufacturing and meat-packing industries.

About 750,000 workers in these industries are to get a 4 cent hourly pay increase effective July 1 under labor contract clauses gearing pay rates to the government index.

The remainin g100,000 workers, primarily in the aircraft industry and in the Washington and Detroit transit systems, are to get 2-cent per hour raises.

Other escalator pay raises pegged to the living cost increase range from 1 cent to 9 cents per hour.

Increases in medical care costs and transportation prices were largely responsible for the moderate hike in May for the overall index.

The medical care increase was attributed primarily to higher premiums for Blue Cross hospitalization plans in several cities, including San Francisco and Kansas City. Rates for physicians' services and hospitals also were higher. Medical care costs as a whole rose seven-tenths of 1 per cent.

Donors Needed For Bloodmobile Visit

Many donors still are needed to assure the 125-pint quota for the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile in Salem next Monday.

At least 160 prospective donors are urged to register to give a pint of blood by phoning the Red Cross office.

One hundred pints of blood were used at City Hospital and 24 pints at the Central Clinic Hospital during the month of May, using up the previous blood contribution, it was pointed out.

The Bloodmobile will be stationed at the Methodist Church on Monday, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Hoffa Acquitted Of Wiretapping

Two Others Found Innocent by U.S. Jury

NEW YORK (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa and two codefendants were acquitted Monday night of charges that they conspired to wiretap the union's Detroit headquarters.

A federal jury of eight men and four women deliberated seven hours before returning the verdict.

The defendants with Hoffa were Owen B. Brennan, president of Detroit Teamsters Local 337, and Bernard Spindel, a professional wiretapper.

Conviction could have brought a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

A previous trial ended in a hung jury.

The government contended the trio illegally conspired here to install wiretaps in the Detroit headquarters in 1953 so Hoffa could eavesdrop on union subordinates.

Hoffa allegedly wanted to know what the subordinates might tell to U.S. Senate investigators or a grand jury in Detroit during investigations of the Teamsters Union.

The defense denied installing any wiretaps but conceded installing other eavesdropping equipment in the union's offices.

During the trial, government witnesses testified that Hoffa was in Detroit July 9, 1953, where the operation of the wiretaps allegedly was explained to him.

The defense offered evidence that Hoffa was in Seattle that day in connection with a union conference.

Hoffa is still under indictment here on five counts of perjury, growing out of testimony he gave to the grand jury that indicted him on wiretap charges.

Soviets Willing To Help Police A-Test Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials said today Russia has indicated willingness to use its 70 seismograph stations in any international program to detect secret nuclear tests.

This, coupled with what they described as the impressive scientific background of the Soviet experts assigned to technical talks at Geneva July 1, gave heart to Western negotiators. The three U. S. experts and their two British, one French and one Canadian colleagues prepared to get to Geneva by next weekend.

These seven Western scientists have been cautioned by their governments to tend strictly to technical matters and avoid international political questions.

Officials said the task of the technical conference on detecting nuclear tests is two-fold:

1. To explore with Soviet bloc scientists the techniques, methods and instruments required to detect nuclear tests — especially those conducted thousands of feet underground or at altitudes of 100 miles or so.

2. To lay out systems of nuclear test detection.

Stuttler Trial Will Be In Fall

LISBON — Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp on Monday set the trial of Louis Stuttler, 39, of East Liverpool, indicted for the burglary of the Burbick hardware store, for the September term of court.

Defense counsel requested a bill of particulars and time to prepare his case and Judge Sharp then set the trial for next term of court.

Stuttler, a former East Liverpool city policeman, was indicted on the charge by the recalled April grand jury. He also is under indictment on three other counts returned in 1956. They include the burglary of the Windland Lumber Co. in 1954, the Pearl China Co. in 1954 and the J. C. Penney Co. store in 1952.

Stuttler, under suspension since he was indicted in 1956, was dismissed from the police force in March, along with Officers Carroll and Cunningham, for failure to take a lie detector test ordered by East Liverpool Safety-Service Director Dan Maggainetti.

His bond was continued by Judge Sharp at $2,500 on the four counts.

McBride was traveling east on the Jersey Ridge Rd., and failed to yield the right of way to Wilde, who was turning onto the road. Approximately $150 damage resulted to both vehicles.

Say Ohio Gain to Be 100,000 in 12 Years

Huge Hike In College Enrollment Forecast

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — When many of the youngsters entering first grade this fall go to college in 1970, enrollment in Ohio's colleges and universities will swell to at least 250,000.

That's the prediction of the Ohio Commission on Education Beyond the High School. If it comes true, it means a gain of almost 100,000 students in the next 12 years.

The figures are part of the commission's complete report —the summing-up of periodic reports during recent months—issued Monday.

Included is a count made last October showing 154,618 students enrolled in the 41 privately financed and church-connected colleges, six state and three municipal universities in the state. Of the 154,618 about 62 per cent—96,133 were recorded as full - time students.

In its report, the Commission tells what it thinks ought to be done to get ready for the surge of college enrollees, and suggests a temporary nine-member commission serving until 1961, without salary—to press for its goals. These include:

Tougher college entrance requirements, higher teacher salaries, more branch colleges and establishment of two-year colleges and technical institutes, more state aid to municipal universities and development of a statewide educational television network.

"The three-qquarters of a million youngsters born in the past three years in Ohio should convince us that providing adequate educational facilities for these children when they attain college age is a task that must be started now," the report declared.

Pointing to a U.S. Census Bureau prediction of 12¼ million persons in Ohio in 1970, compared with the present 9 million, the report calls for training 450 physicians a year. About 320 a year are presently being graduated. The commission suggests a new medical school through a 40 million dollar capital investment and 12 million dollar annual budget.

Gov. C. William O'Neill created the 12-member commission early in 1957. Dr. John C. Baker, president of Ohio University in Athens, is chairman.

Youngstowner Held For $13,000 Theft

Guerrieri, out on bond on three separate burglary charges was taken into custody by federal officers at his home here. He appeared before U. S. Commissioner William G. Dornan and was released on $5,000 bond. A preliminary hearing was set for July 18.

URBANIZED AMERICA—The eastern seaboard of the United States (black area on Newsmap) is the largest and most complex urban system in the world. The Greeks, as usual, had a word for it: "megalopolis"—or great city. The American megalopolis, of course, is not one great single city, but a concentration of large and small cities and counties with a metropolitan, or urban, economy. A study of megalopolis by the Twentieth Century Fund shows that similar concentrations are growing to the west of the Appalachians (shaded areas). As modern techniques enable more food to be grown on less land, and as a greater percentage of the population turns to urban activities, the cities are destined to expand. Ellipse on map suggests a vast megalopolis of the future which seems to be shaping up.

Valuables Worth $22,000 Stolen

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Ralph T. Reed, wife of the president of the American Express Co., reported to Youngstown police Monday night someone stole $22,000 in jewelry and clothing from the trunk of her car. She said she believed it occurred somewhere on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Mrs. Reed, a prominent New Yorker, was traveling to Detroit with her sister, Mrs. Estelle Young, also of New York.

Stopping at a motel here for the night, the women discovered the suitcase containing the valuables were missing from the automobile trunk. Mrs. Reed told officers she last had stopped the car at a restaurant on the Pennsylvania toll road. She said she did not recall where on the turnpike the restaurant was located.

1,000 Ohio Educators to Hold Conference in Bowling Green

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) —Do prospective teachers spend too much time learning HOW to teach, and not enough learning about WHAT they're going to teach?

The question of what to teach the teacher has become one of the thorniest problems in American education. It's going to get a long, hard look-see from some 1,000 educators and education officials who gathered here today for the opening of a five-day convention on tacher education and probational standards.

A report issued earlier this week by the Rockefeller Brothers Fund put the problem this way:

"In some states, the requirements for (teacher) certification are so technical and trivial as to make it unlikely that individuals with a first class liberal education would even apply—or be eligible if they did apply."

Delegates here are attending from all 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia. The nine sponsoring agencies hope some sort of agreement on teacher training and certification can be reached and put into effect nationwide.

The problem isn't strictly an American one—the Russians have been struggling with it, too.

Dr. John B. Whitelaw of the U. S. Office of Education, who recently returned from a four-week tour of Russia, said the Soviets are trying to standardize teacher education and at the same time bring it up to a college or university degree level.

He added in an interview Monday night that the Russians seem to be putting more emphasis on solid subject matter content and relatively less on pedagogy as such.

Teachers in Russia enjoy a much higher status than do their counterparts in this country, Whitelaw declared. He said they are well-paid, carry a teaching load of only three hours a day, have no clerical or bookkeeping work, have classroom assistants for their science classes, are not overloaded with extra-curricular work and are respected as important persons in the community. Although Russian schools have classes six days a week, each teacher has two days off during the week.

"If teachers were given the same status in this country as they are in Russia, we would have no teacher shortage," Whitelaw said. "And with no teacher shortage we wouldn't have near the educational problems we face today."

35 Million in Nation Boating Enthusiasts

By The Associated Press

Whenever 35 million people start doing the same thing at the same time, there's liable to be quite an uproar—even if a great many of them aren't operating motor boats.

In this case, a great many of them are.

Recreational boating, which this season will put one out of every 5 Americans afloat for a varying time in one or another of 7 million pleasure craft, achieves new status, for a presidential proclamation has designated next week as National Safe Boating Week.

Serious boatmen are determined to make good use of the period. The Outboard Club, The American Yachtsmen's Assn., The Power Squadrons and many smaller groups are uniting in a drive to acquaint newcomers to the sport with basic safety regulations before the confusion leads to restrictive legislation.

Vice Admiral A. C. Richmond of the Coast Guard, which is helping sponsor the week's work, says "a special effort must be made to focus attention on the growing need to know and observe basic safe boating rules."

The Outboard Boating Club of America reminded its membership grimly that its own statistics showed that "a lack of common sense" caused about 35 per cent of boating accidents.

Experts Sit In on Quiz Session on Money Matters

By FAYE HENLE
(NEA Staff Writer)

How you do confuse me upon occasion with your lawyer, your banker, even a CPA. It is flattering, but I cannot presume to give you professional advice. Instead, I've picked experts in these fields, asked them the questions you've most frequently asked me. Here are their answers:

Q — Should a man of moderate means change the stocks he now holds in joint tenancy to sole ownership and make his wife wonder why she is being eliminated from the partnership?

A — Certainly not. Yet the experts advise against joint ownership of securities on several accounts. These securities, to become the property of the survivor, will have to be transferred. This involves providing the transfer agent with death certificates, certificates of ownership and payment of a transfer tax. Further, the law presumes the first to die purchased the securities. They are thus tax able in that estate.

HOWEVER, you can immediately put $30,000 worth of securities in your wife's name at no tax cost to either of you. The law allows a once in a lifetime tax-free gift of this amount. You are also permitted to give $3,000 away annually, tax free.

Operating on this basis you can soon build a nice nestegg in your wife's name if your choose. Remember, in addition, half of your estate when you die goes to her tax-free under the federal law.

Q — My brother and I both own a house left us by our parents. He lives in it, pays the taxes. He claims if he were to survive me, he would be sole owner and my husband would not be able to claim anything.

A — Get out the deed and see if it specifies what should happen when one of you dies. We presume your brother is correct since joint ownership usually implies an undivided half share in a property during lifetime only with the right of the survivor to take all.

Q — In closing on a home, I'd appreciate your clarification of the meaning and necessity of a binder.

A — Actually there are two types of binders in a house closing.

ONE IS INSURANCE. The minute the house is yours you should have insurance. If you have not yet decided on the specifics and the amounts you wish included in your policy, you can be leisurely about this, provided you call an insurance agent and give him all the particulars of your property and the name of the bank holding your mortgage if you have one. The insurance agent will then put a temporary insurance coverage on your property.

The second type of binder is an agreement between the buyer and seller prior to writing of the formal contract of sale by your lawyers. You may find your dream house late Saturday and leave a small down payment of say $50 or $100. The seller will acknowledge this as a binder of your faith to purchase his house.

Q — How can we be sure that small items left by a former owner when a house is purchased will not be later claimed by the former owner or some of his relatives?

A — In the closing contract, every item you purchase, i.e. the things left in or with the house like garden tools, appliances, furnishings, should be listed so that after the closing the seller can make no further claims

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That waffles were first introduced into this country by Thomas Jefferson, who bought a waffle iron in Holland. Jefferson also helped popularize the tomato, which had been thought of as poisonous and was known as the love apple.

That if all the oceans were to dry up, enough salt would be left to bury an area the size of England 35 miles deep.

That Johnny Desmond observes "When a man avoids making his father's mistakes he usually winds up making his grandfather's."

That, despite the bad reputation of Sunday drivers, Saturday is the deadliest day of the week in terms of traffic fatalities.

That, in 1904 there were 700 trucks in the United States. Today there are more than ten million.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

A few years ago there were a few six-footers on high school and college athletic teams. Today many of our athletes are taller than that. Stature is increasing as a result of diet and physical care. Yet we do not add a single inch to our height by mere desire nor of our own effort.

Spiritually we can increase our stature, yet we find that we cannot do it alone. God is everlastingly involved. He gives us the growth. We do not say to ourselves, "I am going to grow spiritually." Man must first of all turn to God, and seek forgiveness for his sins.

The process of repentence removes the human poisons which stunt spiritual growth. After the hatreds, suspicions, selfish desires and yielding to temptation have been removed, growth can begin.

St. Lawrence Seaway Isn't Suez

Preliminary discussion of St. Lawrence Seaway tolls, as recommended by U.S. and Canadian committees, shows the possibility of angry differences of opinion before official schedules can be adopted by the U.S. Congress and the Canadian Parliament.

Two possibilities in particular are shooting off sparks.

One is the hint by East Coast port interests that tolls must be forced as high as possible to protect their profitable monopoly on ocean shipping.

The other is the bland assumption by eastern port and rail interests that St. Lawrence Seaway tolls can be compared properly with tolls on shipping that passes through the Suez and Panama canals.

St. Lawrence Seaway tolls must be based by law on the capitalization of the seaway, itself. They must be designed to pay operating costs, interest on the bonded debt and the ultimate retirement of the debt.

They cannot be compared properly with any other canal in existence or misused to preserve the interests of any other means of transportation.

These questions were decided once and for all by Congress in 1954. The St. Lawrence Seaway is a joint nonprofit enterprise of the United States and Canada. As far as many Canadians are concerned, they would prefer to have it toll-free—supported wholly by the government, like a public highway.

The United States, on the other hand, is inclined to think of it as a "toll road," paying for itself over a period of years. In this respect, the United States should have learned a lseson from the experience of toll roads.

There is an exact point where maximum use and maximum revenue come together. The Ohio Turnpike, for example did not find that point until it had reduced tolls on trucks to the point where truckers could not afford to use alternate routes.

That is the point the toll-setters in Washington and Ottawa must try to reach when hey make their official decision. They should no listen to defenders of the port of New York, people who want to make phony comparisons with Suez, or spokesmen for competing facilities of transportation, all of whom want the St. Lawrence Seaway to fail.

Least of all should they listen to people who would cripple steel production in Ohio by setting such a high premium on ore shipments to Lake Erie ports that Labrador ore would be forced down the Atlantic Coast.

Item for the Agenda

The House Ways and Means Committee has opened two weeks of hearings on the Social Security Act, but its agenda does not include the problem of the young citizen who returns from military service and can't find a job.

This problem has become so troublesome in Ohio that the advisory council of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation thinks the General Assembly should take action on it.

These young citizens who have been drafted or have volunteered are coming home at the end of their military duty with no jobs and no right to unemployment compensation. The advisory council of Ohio BUC believes their pre-service employment should be used as a basis for compensation immediately upon discharge from service.

James R. Tichenor, BUC administrator, points out that this could be done by amending a section of the law which defines veterans as those who were discharged from service before Jan. 31, 1955, thus restoring the same rights veterans had during the Korean War period and World War II.

The moral obligation to minimize the sacrifice of servicemen is clear. It should be equally clear as a legal obligation. A resolution to that effect by the House Ways and Means Committe would have a good effect.

What If a Cog Caught?

Sylvia Porter's column on economics has brought to attention the surprising information that the official in charge of the consumer price index is shocked by its lack of accuracy.

H. E. Riley, chief of the division of prices and cost of living of the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, says the index is badly out of date and never was broad enough in its coverage to be dependable in the first place.

This is surprising because many wage contracts are based on the index, which also has heavy bearing on viewpoints about the cost of living. It is as though weather reports were being based on a thermometer that did not register the right temperature, or a baromeer that had not been adjused to sea level.

Ye, this inaccurate information is processed into a statistic that millions of Americans consult and quote. If a cog caught in the computing machinery, thereby compounding the inaccuracies of the original material, the whole country could be thrown into a misapprehension based on a gross error.

Mr. Riley thinks something should be done about it. He wants the base of the index broadened to reflect what consumers actually pay, not what a handful of posted prices surveyed in five large cities indicate they are being asked to pay at a few check points. Only then would there be any justification in using the index as a statistical control.

Once Over

The Man Who Built a Better Mousetrap thinks good times are near. "My mousetrap salesmen are on their toes for the first time in the memory of the mice," he declared today.

"My staff is alert and cooperative. My directors all feel that we can turn out a better mousetrap at a lower price. On top of all this our statistical department says that there were more mice in the country during the first half of 1958 than during the same period of last year."

HE WAS MOST optimistic. "Like many industries we had become pretty careless," he continued. "We had mousetrap salesmen who wouldn't get out of their chairs, no matter how serious the mouse situation might be. Our engineers had gone overboard in making fancier, bigger and more de luxe mousetraps.

"We were spending vast sums for TV shows which didn't catch either the human audience or the mice, but scared both. Now we have got back to fundamentals. I am closing the factory wing built for studies of new designs, including more ornamental holes in traps.

"I have discarded the design for a push-button trap, making it easier for mice to get in. The purpose of a mousetrap is to catch mice, not to entertain or amuse them. Out with all nonsense about a lower center or gravity, streamlines and stainless steel springs!"

THE MAN WHO BUILT a Better Mousetrap added that he was abolishing the idea of promoting the mousetrap demand by trips around the world, mink-coats and free automobiles for the best slogans in 25 words or les on "Why I think a mousetrap in a house full of mice is a good idea."

"Only yesterday," he concluded, "I turned down an offer from a big cheese corporation which wanted to share with me the sponsorship of a video western or a quiz show to increase the sales of our products. I wish to be known not only as the builder of a better mousetrap but as the builder of an aversion to the belief a product can only be sold through a cowboy drama or questions like, 'What was the first name of U.S. Grant?'"

Nerve Wracking!

Ike Has Set the Example

By JAMES MARLOW

President Eisenhower himself has set an example for Sherman Adams and all other government employes in accepting gifts. He has received for his personal use gifts totaling thousands of dollars.

He tried, in his news conference last week, to say when it is and isn't all right for a man in public office to accept gifts. The line he drew was far from sharp or distinct.

Maybe such a line can't be drawn. But because it hasn't been drawn both Eisenhower and Adams, his chief assistant, find themselves in contradictory positions.

If a clear line can't be drawn it would seem any man in public office should lean over backwards to avoid doing anything which might embarrass him or the government or cause suspicion.

This is what Eisenhower said: "The circumstances surrounding the innocent receipt by a public official of any gifts are therefore important, so that the public may clearly distinguish between innocent and guilty action.

"Among these circumstances are the character and reputation of the individual, the record of his subsequent actions, and evidence of intent or lack of intent to exert undue influence."

But this explanation overlooks some very human and subtle questions:

1. Would a man in public office, intentionally or not, be more favorably inclined to do something or decide something or use his influence for a person who gives him something than for one who doesnt?

2. Should a man in public office —for fear of appearing to return a favor—let himself be in the position of refusing to do for an individual who gave him a gift something he'd freely do for a stranger?

A man in public office could easily avoid both dilemmas — dilemmas with which he should never have to be confronted — by refusing gifts from anyone who has or might have any business with the government.

When Bernard Goldfine, Adams' gift-giving friend, a businessman, got into trouble with a federal agency, he went to Adams in the White House to find out why. Adams got the information for him, information which a House subcommittee lawyer said it was against the law to reveal.

Then Adams offered this contradictory explanation of his conduct:

He said what he did for Goldfine—getting the information from the agency — was the kind of routing thing he or his staff would do for anyone who came to him. But at the same time he conceded maybe his judgment was bad.

Several years ago Eisenhower said: "I can't believe anybody on my staff would ever be guilty of an indiscretion. But if anything came to my attention of that kind . . . that individual would be gone."

At his news conference Eisenhower, while describing Adams as "imprudent," announced at the same time he would keep him because "I need him."

Eisenhower certainly has needed Adams. It's because of Adams' long and dedicated hours at his desk—taking a lot of the load off Eisenhower—that Eisenhower has had so much time to himself, including time for golf.

Eisenhower gave the American public notice in 1956 that, if elected to a new term, he would need to take time out frequently from the White House grind to safeguard his health. He said the doctors had prescribed a regimen of "ordered activity, interspersed with regular amounts of exercise, recreation and rest."

Thus he made clear that much detail would be delegated to aides like Adams, although he said he had no slightest doubt that he himself could perform "all the important duties of the presidency."

Acclaim For Scientists

By DOUGLES LARSEN

When more than two scientists get together these days they call it a seminar and newsreel men rush in to cover the event.

Russia's Sputniks helped create this and other phenomena which are changing the way of life for U.S. scholars and scientists.

"Egghead" has become a term of flattery instead of a snide jibe at a thinker type. Identifying yourself as a "professor" gets you a hotel reservation as fast as claiming you're a corporation vice president. A "doctor" in front of your name is the social equivalent of a foreign title.

And the recent consumption of green peas and chicken by scientists, professors and engineers on the lecture circuit before Rotary, Kiwanis and women's clubs has become astounding.

A SURVEY AMONG the scores of scientista and experts who attended the International Geophysical Year events and scientific - military sessions in Washington reveals this new, exalted position they enjoy on the U.S. scene.

Generally, the science clan is delighted by these developments. But as trained researchers they hesitate to make too broad generalizations from limited findings.

"Oh, this whole new attitude toward the scientist and engineer is wonderful, all right," says Dr. Richard Porter, the silver-haired distinguished scholar who is chairman of the IGY satellite committee and associated with the National Academy of Sciences.

"Public acclaim is flattering. But the true scientist doesn't need acclaim as much as he needs fundamental understanding of how he thinks and works. The real, broad need of the public is to have a higher regard for the intellectual individual generally."

DR. PORTER AGREES that the Soutniks were important in creating this ne worder. "But I think it was the development of radar which first convinced the public just what scientists could do in the field of weapons and national security. This is when the tide turned in our favor," he says.

William W. Kellogg is one of the chief space experts for the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. which is building the huge reconnaissance satellite for the Air Force called the Pied Piper. And he, like so many of his colleagues, has suddenly found himself in heavy demand as a luncheon speaker.

"The trouble is, I think this whole business is probably another fad," he says. "And it could be a dangerous fad if the public gets interested in physicists and aerodynamicists and tends to forget about the biologists and other researchers doing work which just now happens to be less glamourous," he explains.

ALMOST ALL OF the persons interviewed in this survey agree that the physicists and missile and satellite experts are enjoying the cream of the science popularity boom. But they also say that as soon as man begins to explore outer space in person, the medical aspects of rocketry will enjoy a big boost in public interest.

Dr. Nelson Spratt, with the National Science Foundation, is a biologist and an expert on the human factors involved in space research. "It's natural that the physicists should grab the spotlight now," he says, "but it won't be long before the people discover what space research means to humans. And when that happens, this, I predict, will be the great public interest."

Most of the scientists interviewed who do not live in university towns or scientific communities report that in the last six months, their neighborhood and community social prestige has been bolstered in numerous ways.

Smear-Adams Spree

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Aide's Enemies Apparently Started Campaign

Sherman Adams does not intend to resign—and President Eisenhower will not crucify him by asking him to resign.

David Lawrence

Mr. Adams is convinced he has violated no law and exerted no improper influence. The President is also convinced that this is a fact.

Looking back now over what happened—and hindsight is always better than foresight—if the presidential aide had for one moment ever suspected that his personal friendship of 15 years with Bernard Goldfine, wool manufacturer, and the exchange of gifts would be distorted into a smear scandal, no such gifts would have been accepted.

But, unfortunately, because day-by-day newspaper accounts are not pieced together carefully by the average person and politicians are quick to vent their hates through condemnatory statements, a man can be convicted by public opinion of a "crime" he didn't commit.

The big question is: What is the duty of the press in such circumstances? Isn't it to present all the evidence and all the facts of law and prevent an inncent man from being wrongly stigmatized for life?

This correspondent has read the record and has also noted the contents of the important statement issued over the weekend by Edward F. Howrey, former chairman of the Federal Trade Commission.

THE CONCLUSIONS which this writer reaches after such an examination are as follows:

1. Not a scintilla of evidence exists to prove that any improper influence was exerted or that a violation of law was committed by Sherman Adams.

2. The decisions reached by the Federal Trade Commission in handling the cases involving Goldfine were made by the "career" officials who hold office from one administration to the other without rgard to political change.

Neither they nor any other members of the commission ever knew that Chairman Howrey had received an inquiry from Sherman Adams about the Goldfine cases.

The cases were handled on their merits as are thousands of similar cases each year. Mr. Howrey himself took no part in deciding the cases. His subordinates did so and took the necessary action.

3. Notable in support of the facts as stated is the testimony of the acting chairman, Robert Secrest, former Democratic congressman from Ohio for 16 years.

4. No "regulation" of the commission was violated when Mr. Howrey sent a memorandum of information to Mr. Adams in response to his inquiry.

It has been the commission's "policy" to withhold the name of a company or individual making a complaint about an unfair trade practice.

In this instance the name of the complainant was already known to the defendant company through open disclosure by the opposing attorney.

IN FACT, the names of the contending parties in the dispute were well known in the woolen industry because other woolen mills were vitally interested in any changes in labelling woolens that might be decided on.

Some members of Congress from wool states were also aware of the parties to the controversy.

5. Mr. Howrey's memorandum to Mr. Adams pointed out that the case could be settled by "voluntary compliance" in accordance with custom. But this was no new or confidential information.

The defendant company already had this knowledge in connection with its previous conferences with the Federal Trade Commission, which had been trying to conclude the case by the same method.

The annual report of the commission reveals that there were 6,399 cases of questioned practices in the woolen industry which were settled that year in the same way.

6. No favored treatment was given the defendant company. In the first instance, the Goldfine company complied voluntarily.

In the second instance, the customary remedy—the usual "cease and desist" order—deemed the most effective by the commission's top staff, was applied and the defendant complied with the law governing such orders.

7. As for the allegations about a case before the Securities Exchange Commission in which Goldfine's company was accused of failing to file some annual reports, Sherman Adams himself made no contact with the commission.

A routine inquiry was made by a member of the White House staff—the special counsel—and he advised Mr. Adams that no further steps should be taken by him. Mr. Adams dropped the matter.

The Goldfine company was later given the customary penalty for failing to file its reports.

INQUIRIES about pending cases are routine by both executive officials and members of Congress in behalf of citizens, all of whom —whether they are gift-giving friends or strangers—have a constitutional right "to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

What's at the bottom of the whole smear? It appears that a personal feud by enemies of Mr. Adams started it all, and the cruelties of politics resulted in a ghoulish spree before a House investigating committee which flagrantly violated a House resolution about the proper behavior of its investigating committees.

It's perhaps too bad that Sherman Adams isn't a Communist or a defender of Communistic "beliefs."

He would today have the protective comments of many of the so-called "liberals" who have vehemently denounced "guilt by association" and "guilt by innuendo."

He would also have the benefit of Chief Justice Warren's castigations of the behavior of congressional committees.

As for those Republicans in Congress who have been running to cover because they are up for election this year, are they really so naive as to believe that the Democrats would ever stop talking about the Adams case if he resigned? His retirement would be interpreted as a confession of guilt.

It is always better, if the facts and the law are on your side, to continue the fight for truth on the basis of the evidence and the law. For the Aerican people are usually fair when they do get all the facts.

Big Mysteries in Industry

By SAM DAWSON

The two big mysteries in industry today — ones that could affect your pocketbook both directly and indirectly — are:

1. What, if anything, are the steel companies going to do about prices a week from today when a higher wage scale goes into effect? Such a cost boost in the past usually has meant higher prices for steel and later, for a host of products made of steel.

2. What will happen in Detroit if a new labor contract isn't signed before the auto companies are ready to start turning out the 1959 models? If there's a strike it could be a nasty one, delaying general business recovery I If there's a wage-price hike as settlement it could make many families take another look at their budgets and at their present aging cars.

The betting is about even that a steel price hike will come fairly early in the summer. Some companies, particularly the small firms, feel they can't absorb the new labor costs for any length of time.

The large companies with their greater financial resources and reserves could put off price hikes for some time. If they do, it will be rough on the smaller ones.

Steel management figures that boost in wages and fringe benefits totals about 20 cents an hour. Management says that is equal to $11 a ton more for steel.

But many feel that in view of the uncertain demand for steel after the present rush to beat a price hike subsides it will be hard for the mills to make more than a $4 or$5 price advance stick.

But what worries government and other observers is whether a steel price hike on the heels of the wage increase will be a signal for a general wage-price spiral again throughout industry and trade. In time such a fillip to inflation would hit everyone's pocketbook.

The present hesitancy of the large steel companies to say what they are going to do about prices might be based on such a consideration.

Wildcat Strike Called At Missile Plant

DETROIT (AP) — The government's attention was drawn today to labor trouble at Chrysler guided missile plant developing as an offshoot of the auto industry's no-contract period.

A wildcat strike by United Auto Workers members idled several thousand men Monday at Chrysler's Redstone and Jupiter parts factory and resulted in a "total loss" for the day's first shift.

Picketing members of UAW Local 125, which represents about 450 of hte plant's 9,500 employes, blocked gates to protest what they called company discrimination against union members. Chrysler denied this.

The UAW has had no contracts at the industry's Big Three — Chrysler, Ford and General Motors — since expiration of the old three-year pacts on the Memorial Day wekend.

Navy Vanguard Rocket Flunks Another Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Navy's temperamental Vanguard rocket—America's No. 1 satellite launching vehicle — flunked another test today.

After hours of hard work, the Vanguard crew gave up at 1:34 a. m. on another heart-breaking effort to get the slender rocket with its "basketball moon" off the ground.

The Navy said heavy rains had caused an accumulation of moisture in the rocket's wiring system which led to electrical short circuiting.

It was the second time in four days that the crew had been stymied in its effort to get this particular Vanguard off its launching pad. It was scrubbed last Thursday night after a long countdown.

Cost of Living

The increase in transportation reflected higher prices for gasoline following the end of price wars in several cities, and for used cars. Prices of new cars and tires were lower.

Hersey E. Riley, chief of the labor department's price and cost of living division forecast continuing increases in cost of services, and said meat prices probably won't decline until fall. On this basis, he said he hesitated at forecasting whether the living cost index for June will be up or down.

The labor department said after-tax spendable earnings of factory production workers rose slightly between April and May. The rise amounted to about 35 cents per week, or one-half of 1 per cent, and was attributed to a slight increase in hours worked.

Two Juveniles Get Four Months in Jail

LISBON — Raymond Payton, 19, of 1024 Waterloo St., East Liverpool, and Donald Louis Bailey, 17, of 7th St., East Liverpool, were each sentenced Monday afternoon to four months in county jail and were fined $50 by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

Payton was sentenced for contributing to a minor and for parole violation, and Bailey for petty larceny after he and Payton stole four tires and wheels from different cars and sold them to an East Liverpool garage.

Mr. Goldfine or East Boston Co. either before or after the White House inquiry on the case," he said.

"No one would have been more indignant than I, were I to have detected in the record any trace of favoritism or impropriety, let alone illegality or venality."

The facts in the record, the SEC chairman said, are that SEC waged firm and aggressive action against Goldfine's East Boston Co. and sought a stiffer penalty than it was able to win from the federal court.

In the whole history of the SEC, he said, the East Boston case is the only one where the commission went so far as to seek a contempt of court order to compel te Boston firm to file the financial reports required under SEC law.

The SEC already has said in a statement that its case against Goldfine was successfully prosecuted, and that the agency pushed for heavier penalties than a judge allowed.

Counsel Set to Testify

SEC's general counsel was reported ready to testify too that he recalls only discussing the legal status of a Goldfine case — rather than confidential SEC information—at a 1956 White House meeting prompted by Adams.

Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide, has said he received information on the case but did not pass it along to Goldfine and asked no favors.

The SEC officials were called as witnesses by a House subcommittee renewing its inquiry into how federal regulatory agencies treated Goldfine.

Subcommittee Chairman Oren Harris D-Ark) said Goldfine got preferred treatment both from the SEC and the Federal Trade Commission.

Adams has acknowledged receiving expensive favors from Goldfine and contacting SEC and FTC about Goldfine cases. But he denied seeking special treatment for Goldfine.

Involved Goldfine Firm

The SEC case involved a holding company of Goldfine's, the East Boston Co., which House investigators say failed to file required SEC financial reports from 1948 to 1955.

In the controversy over whether Adams should step down as Eisenhower's right-hand man·

The Republican national chairman, Meade Alcorn, praised Adams for ability and integrity but said, "Of course, no man is indispensable." He made that reply when asked in a radio interview whether, if Adams were forced out, "that might destroy President Eisenhower's desire to continue in office without this man upon whom he's so dependent?"

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) said Arizona county GOP chairmen think unanimously that Adams must go. Rep. Clarence Brown, Republican national committeeman from Ohio, said Adams' admitted imprudence has damaged the Republican cause.

Soviets

The U. S. scientists are hopeful they can make progress on the first objective. When they move into the second one, if they get that far, tricky political questions —like whether Red China should be brought in and whether nuclear tests should be banned—will pop up.

Officials said the Soviet government has made no firm offer to use its 70 seismograph stations. But they said the Russians have indicated the stations may be available. They would be helpful, perhaps vital, in checking on test explosions behind the Iron Curtain.

Soviet diplomatic exchanges with the United States have carried a political complexion. As a result, the State Department is assigning a foreign service officer skilled in international politics to steer the scientists away from that field. The diplomat will be named in a few days.

the Hungarian rebels, had taken refuge in the Yugoslav Embassy in Vienna after Soviet troops moved in to crush the revolt. The Russians arrested him when he left the embassy on a safe-conduct given by his successor, Premier Janos Kadar.

The Yugoslav note to the Hungarian Communist regime termed the executions a "gross and unprovoked attack" on President Tito's government.

The note called "untrue and fabricated from beginning to end" the Hungarian charge that Yugoslavia in effect had collaborated with Nagy in plotting to overthrow Kadar's government.

Pravda said protests to the executions have been made in the West "to complicate the international situation, rekindle the cold war, sabotage talks at the highest level and pass over to open military adventures as soon as this appears possible to them."

The Soviet Communist party newspaper's editorial said the West had adopted this policy as "salvation from its economic crisis."

Her fingertip veil was attached to a Juliet cap of banded satin and illusion. She carried an arrangement of Amazon lilies and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor, Mrs. George Montgomery of Michigan City, was gowned in parfait pink lace over a matching taffeta sheath Her cummerbund of peau de soie formed a bustle back. Her floral headpiece and bouquet were of pink "Fair Lady" roses.

Miss Sheryl Ann Cibula of Lisbon, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her gown of parfait pink peau de soie over satin was fashioned with a matching belt and bustle. A matching headband of roses and a lace basket of rose petals completed her ensemble.

Peter Edwards of St. Louis, Mo. served as best man. Ushers were Earl Burton, Miller Geiger and Dr. Michael McNalley of St. Louis and Charles Mershon of Michigan City.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cibula wore an aqua silk sheath while Mrs. Locke chose a dress of gray lace over shell pink. Both wore corsages of Amazon lilies.

A reception for 200 guests was held at the Michigan City Yacht Club.

Mrs. Locke received her master's degree from Michigan State University and is employed as creative dramatics instructor of the Dunes Arts Foundation and the Michigan City Public Schools. Her husband, a graduate of Washington University, is a self-employed mechanical development engineer.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans, the couple will be at home in Michiana Shores, Ind.

Two Home Runs Give Stepanic's 4-1 Win Over Jack's Bar

Homer Gives Lincoln Edge; Demings Win

Home runs figured in two victories in three softball games Monday night at Kelley Park as sluggers poled four over the fence.

Two homers provided the punch Stepanic's Tavern needed to beat Jack's Bar 4-1 in the single Class AA game. They were hit by Herb Reed and Jim Beard.

Bill Odorizzi's round-tripper in the last of the seventh rung up another win for Lincoln Machine, which nosed out B&W Research 6-5 in one of two Class A tilts played.

Jim Kelly stroked a home run for Friends' Church, but his team lost to Demings anyway, 6-5, in the other Class A contest.

Reed belted his homer with a mate aboard in the first inning to give Stepanic's a 2-0 lead over Jack's Bar, whose lone tally came in the bottom of the second frame.

Reed's blast was his second round-tripper of the season.

After Stepanic's scored another run in the top of third inning, Jim Beard clubbed his first home run of the year with none on in the fifth to boost his team to a 4-1 victory edge.

Reed of Stepanic's and Chuck Gaisor of Jack's Bar were the hitting stars with two hits each for their teams. Each team collected five hits and made one error.

Glenn Mercer was the winning pitcher and George Gould absorbed the loss.

The score was tied 5-5 in the Lincoln-Research tilt until Odorizzi poled his fifth homer of the season in the final frame to give Lincoln Machine a 6-5 win.

The Researchers scored two runs in the first inning and a run in the third to take a 3-0 lead. But Lincoln Machine rebounded with three markers in the bottom of the third to tie the game.

B&W came back with two more runs in the fourth, but Lincoln scored a single run in both the fourth and fifth innings to knot the count at 5-5. Odorizzi then lofted his four-bagger in the seventh to ice the contest for Lincoln.

The Machinists outhit the Researchers 8-5. Gary Painchaud collected two hits for Lincoln. B&W's hits were scattered.

John "Judge" Guiler was credited with the win and Paul Thys took the loss. The Researchers made five miscues and Lincoln was charged with two.

Two runs in the fourth inning proved to be the margin of victory for Demings in their 6-5 conquest of the Friends.

Friends grabbed a four-run lead in the first frame, but Demings matched that output with four of their own in the botom half of the same inning. Friends scored another marker in the top of the second to round out their scoring and fall behind when Demings tallied twice in the fourth.

Demings collected seven hits off Bancroft, the losing pitcher, while the Friends managed to nick John Eagon, the winner, for only three safeties, including the homer by Kelly. Both teams committed three errors each.

JAYCEE TOURNEY WINNERS—George Ehrhart (l.) newly elected Junior Chamber of Commerce president, presents a trophy to Harry L. Dugan, Jr., 16, of 431 W. 5th St. for winning the annual Jaycee golf tournament Monday at the Salem Golf Club. Looking on are Atty. Earl R. Miller (r.), tournament chairman, and Jerry N. Kyle, 17, of 1491 N. Ellsworth Ave., runnerup. Kyle holds the trophy he won for taking the No. 2 spot for the second year in a row. Besides the trophy, Dugan will receive an expense-paid trip to the state Jaycee tournament in Toledo July 14-15.

Harry Dugan Jr. Wins Jaycee Golf Tourney

Two Salem youths walked off with top honors in the second annual Junior Chamber of Commerce medal play golf tournament Monday at the Salem Golf Club.

Tourney winner was Harry L. Dugan, Jr., 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Dugan Sr. of 431 W. Fifth St. Jerry N. Kyle, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Kyle of 1491 N. Ellsworth Ave. was runner-up for the second year in a row.

A caddy master at the Salem club, young Dugan posted nine-hole rounds of 44 and 45 for an 18-hole score of 89 to place first in a field of 20 contestants, including four from Columbiana and 16 from Salem.

This is the first year Dugan has carried off any honors. Dave Sixt of East Liverpool won the tourney last year.

Jerry shot nine-hole rounds of 48 and 44 for a 92 total. The round scores and the total were identical with his scores last year in the Jaycee tourney.

Dugan also will receive an expense-paid trip to the state Jaycee tournament in Toledo July 14-15. The medal-play tourney will be a 36-hole affair.

Newly elected Jaycee president, George Ehrhart, and Atty. Earl R. Miller, tournament chairman, were on hand to congratulate the winners and present the trophies to them.

After the trophies are engraved, the youngsters will receive them during a formal presentation at a Jaycee dinner Thursday, July 3, Ehrhart said.

Moore Blanks Yankees 2-0 For Chicago

By The Associated Press

The Chicago White Sox finally have put Manager Al Lopez's formula for success to work: If you can't score many runs yourself don't let the other guy score any at all.

It sounds tough, but that's just what the Sox pitching staff has been doing lately. Ray Moore loaded another shutout on the American League-leading New York Yankees Monday night with a three-hitter that gave Chicago a 2-0 victory and a share of fourth place.

Moore, another profit in that power-for-pitching trade plan put into effect by the Sox last winter, hadn't pitched a shutout in a year, but he helped boost Chicago's whitewash total to six in nine games.

The second-place Kansas City A's whipped Washington 7-2 and retained their one-game lead over the third-place Detroit Tigers, who defeated Baltimore 3-1 in the only other game scheduled.

In the National League, rookie Carleton Willey tossed a six-hit shutout as the Milwaukee Braves defeated San Francisco 7-0. St. Louis moved into a third-place tie with Cincinnati by beating Pittsburgh 7-5 while the Redlegs beat Los Angeles 6-1.

The A's counted three home runs, one Bob Cerv's 19th to tie Boston's Jackie Jensen for the AL lead. Little Murry Dickson won his fifth with a seven-hitter. He had a shutout until the seventh, then gave up home runs to Norm Zauchin and Roy Sievers. Bill Tuttle and Hector Lopez also homered for the A's.

George Susce, late of Boston, won his first for Detroit in his first complete game since Sept. 25, 1955, when he beat the Yankees. The lone Oriole run came in the sixth on Gus Triandos' 15th homer. Gail Harris homered off loser Arnie Portocarrero (4-5) for a 1-0 Tiger lead in the second inning. Al Kaline's sacrifice fly made it 2-0 in the third and he then tripled and scored on a passed ball in the eighth.

Pirates Downed by Cardinals 7-5

Braves' Willey Blanks 2nd-Place Giants 7-0

By The Associated Press

Your ace has lost three in a row. Your World Series hero is stumbling along with a 5-5 record. Your most consistent winner is on the disabled list and your pitching staff has come through with only one nine-inning complete game in more than three weeks. You should be dead.

Instead, the Milwaukee Braves reached down to the minors and pulled out a plum named Carleton Willey, a big right-hander who won 21 at Wichita last season. He was the toast of the dozen or so kid pitchers who crowded the spring camp. But come cutdown time and he was shipped back to Wichita.

Now, with Warren Spahn slumping, Lew Burdette at .500 for 10 decisions and Bob Buhl ailing, Willey was called back, and he came back big — pitching a six-hit shutout in his first major league start and beating second-place San Francisco 7-0 Monday night.

That bounced the Giants 2½ games behind and in danger of being overhauled by St. Louis and Cincinnati. The Cardinals tied the Redlegs for third place, a game behind San Francisco, with a 7-5 victory over Pittsburgh while Cincy was disposing of Los Angeles 6-1. Those were the only games scheduled.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox beat New York 2-0 on Ray Moore's three-hitter. The Kansas City A's beat Washington 7-2. Detroit defeated Baltimore 3-1.

The Pirates built a 3-0 lead against the Cards, then blew it with five errors, three by Ted Kluszewski. Curt Flood had four hits for St. Louis.

Brooks Lawrence (5-3) won his fourth in a row for the Redlegs, going all the way with a six-hitter while Cincy handed Johnny Podres his sixth defeat. Singles by Gus Bell and Roy McMillan, a sacrifice by Lawrence and Johnny Temple's single scored the tie-breaking runs in a two-run fifth.

Begalla Hurls Petrucci's to 14-1 Victory

Eljer, Gordon Scotts, the Knights of Columbus and Petrucci's won in four Hot Stove League games played Sunday and Monday.

Petrucci's walloped Brown and Ziegler 14-1. Begalla, the winning pitcher, threw a one-hitter at the losers, while his own teammates clubbed 14 safeties.

Hitting stars for Petrucci's were Scott with three and Cozad, Washington. Begalla and Arter with two each.

Eljer handed Youngstown Kitchens its second defeat of the season tc the tune of 6-3. Gary Jeffries, the winning hurler, allowed only four hits and struck out nine men, twice with the bases loaded.

Eljer pounded out eight hits, including two doubles by Dave Wolf and two singles by Randy Reed. Dick Keeler and Bill Berry got two hits each for the Kitchens. Berry poled a homer and a triple.

Gordon Scotts defeated Brown and Ziegler 7-4. Hilton Moffett, winning pitcher, helped his own cause with a homer.

Tod Chappell and Rodney Leach tripled for the winners, while Allen Phillips' double was the losers' only extra-base hit. Scotts out hit B&Z 7-4.

The Knights of Columbus rolled over Team No. 8 by a 12-5 count. Don Adams homered and tripled for the losers in his only times at bat. He also batted in three of their five runs.

Jim Lantz and Jim Taus tripled for the K. of C. Taus Barney Cushman, Marty Limpose and Dennis Snyder hit doubles in the contest. Limpose was the winning twirler as K. of C. outhit the losers 10-4.

Belluno Favored to Win Symphony Purse Race

CINCINNATI (AP) — Belluno, with one notable victory earlier at the current meeting, is favored to capture the featured Symphony Purse race today at River Downs.

Belluno drew top weight of 119 pounds for the six furlong event.

Impossible's third victory here this season—by a nose in a photo finish—came in the featured Alms test Monday.

Impossible, a longshot, streaked up the stretch in a fight with Slinker and only eked out victory in the final steps.

The victory paid $28, $8.06 and $5.40 while Slinker was worth $5.60 and $4.60 and Lotogo returned $5.60.

Redlegs Call Young Southpaw From Minors

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gene Hayden, 22-year-old southpaw, is slated to report to Cincinnati's Redlegs today from the minors to fill out the pitching staff.

Hayden this season compiled a 4-11 record with Nashville of the Southern Assn. and struck out 15 men in his last game.

The Reds now have 24 players, one under the limit.

Bill Casper Captures Flint Open Tourney

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Today is Bill Casper Jr.'s 27th birthday and he has a check for $9,000, a gleaming trophy and the title of golf's leading money winner to make it a happy one.

The beefy ex-sailor from Apple Valley, Calif., packed $9,000 worth of drama and excitement into one final putt Monday. From a distance of 3½ feet he captured the $52,000 Flint Open tournament by a single stroke.

Casper finished with a 71, one-under-par, and his 285 tournament total nosed out Masters champion Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., and Ted Kroll of Sarasota, Fla., by a stroke.

Palmer finished brilliantly with a 69, the finest of the rainy day, while third round leader Kroll staggered in with a 75.

Casper's winnings for the year exceed $31,000.

Kroll and Palmer each picked up $3,800. U. S. Open champion Tommy Bolt finished with 74 and tied for fourth with Doug Ford at 287.

Las Vegas — Willie Vaughn, 158½, Hollywood, Calif., outpointed Artie Dixon, 158½, Long Beach, Calif., 10.

Bangor, Maine — Holly Mims, 153, Springfield, Mass., outpointed Sammy Walker, 160½, Bangor, 10.

Woodward Defeated By Wilfie Greaves

NEW YORK (AP) — At 22 Wilfie Greaves has been put through the fistic wringer. Apparently learning the hard way against the best fighters in the middleweight division has made a pretty good scrapper out of the farm boy from Edmonton, Alberta.

The youngster scored a unanimous ten-round decision over Otis Woodard of New York at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night. It was his sixth straight victory.

He holds the Canadian middleweight crown and is being primed for a title crack at British Empire champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria.

But first Wilfie will take on Ralph Jones of Yonkers or Chico Vejar of Stamford, Conn., at the Calgary Stampede, a big rodeo, in late July or August. That's the schedule mapped out today by C. W. Smith, a Detroit promoter who advises Manager Tony Ross.

Although he was outweighed 161 to 159, Greaves seemed much stronger than the 23 - year old Woodard. He forced the fight and scored the more effective punches.

New Bedford, Mass. — Willie Pep, 129, Hartford, Conn., outpointed Pat McCoy, 132, Ireland, 10.

Midget Racers Will Return To Canfield

Bob Tattersall of Julian, Ill. will headline a big field of 30 cars as the midgets make their first appearance at Canfield Speedway in four years Friday night. Tattersall drives a Ford-powered midget.

Friday's events will be a Tri-State Midget Racing Association program with seven big events, headed by a 20-lap feature, on the quarter-mile track.

Fibber Walters of Detroit is also entered in a Ford midget. Among other top drivers are Ed Stanley of Cleveland in an Offenhouser, Jim Sheffer of New Castle in an Offenhouser, Early Parky of Akron, Studebaker; Jack O'Rourke of Akron, Fergus;

Jack DeUnger, Alliance, Studebaker; Red Cam, Flint, Mich., Offenhouser; Ed Jenkins, Bedford, Fergue; Red Lanahan, Parkersburg, Offenhouser; Pete Toth, Coley, Fergue; Buddy Martin, Kent, Riley Overhead;

Mike Nemeir, Clyde, O., Studebaker; Bill Spear, Warren, Offenhouser; Shorty Drexler, Louisville, Offenhouser; Joe Pinter, Cuyahoga Falls, Offenhouser; and Dave McMillan, Ellwood City, Special.

Martin is the curent point-leader in Tri-State with Spears in the runner-up slot.

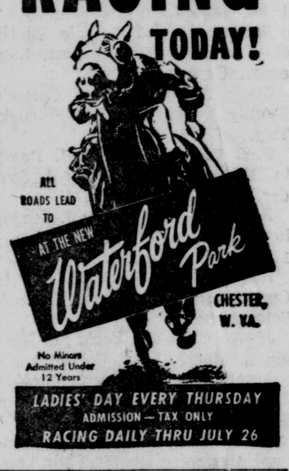

The midgets will open the seven-race program Friday at 8:30 p.m. Time trials get under way at 7.

The following night, Saturday, the modified "bombs" will be back in action on the quarter-mile track in eight races, featuring a 25-lapper.

Some 45 "bomb" will be on hand. Drivers will include Baldy Baker, Russ Allen, Don Eggett, Dean Mast, Gib Orr and a host of others. Race time Saturday night is also 8:30.

Redlegs Whip Dodgers 6-1

Brooks Lawrence Gives Up Six Hits

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati's Redlegs plan to set up their own hall of fame here, and it might be prudent to nominate Brooks Lawrence and Don Hoak for consideration by future generations of fans.

Right now they're too valuable to the Redlegs.

Lawrence, for example, threw a six-hitter Monday night, defeating Los Angeles' Dodgers and he was always in command.

Third-sacker Hoak, the Reds' second best consistent hitter at .319, chimed in with two strategic hits and scored one of the markers in the 6-1 Cincinnati victory.

The two have one thing in common: They came to the Reds as castoffs—deemed by their former clubs to be played-out, washed-up, generally has-been players.

Lawrence's only tough spot came in the first inning Monday night. After the Dodgers tagged him for two hits, he bore down and quelched the threat.

But the Dodgers scored on him in the next inning when former Redleg Steve Bilko walked, reached third on Don Zimmer's double and scored while the Reds were busy with a foreceout.

From then on all the scoring was for Cincinnati. Hoak got in on the last two rallies, starting off in the sixth with a double. Catcher Ed Bailey singled him home.

In the eighth, Frankie Robinson doubled and George Crowe singled him in. After Hoak's single, pinch-runner Dee Fondy galloped in to score on a foreceout play.

The Reds had little trouble solving starter Johnny Podres' stuff, jumping on him for a run in the first inning on a double-single combination by Pete Whisenant and Crowe.

In the fifth, the Reds broke out of a 1-1 deadlock with two runs. Gus Bell and Roy McMillan got started with singles and after advancing on Lawrence's sacrifice, Johnny Temple singled in Bell. McMillan trotted in on a force play.

And as to the Reds own hall of fame, the team plans first to install names of five of the best former players in a spot somewhere in Crosley Field.

The fans will do the voting and the results of the first ballot will be announced next July 18.

A twi-night doubleheader with Los Angeles comes tonight with Don Drysdale and Carl Erskine scheduled to oppose Bob Purkey and Willard Schmidt on the mound.

Held to Stay At Center Field Position

CLEVELAND (AP) — Rookie center fielder Carroll Hardy, who underwent an appendectomy May 20, is back in uniform but will be on the bench tonight when the Cleveland Indians open a three-game series against the Boston Red Sox.

"We'll go with the same lineup for a while," said Manager Bobby Bragan Monday after Hardy was returned to active status following the required 30 days on the disabled list.

This meant that Woody Held, recently acquired from the Kansas City A's, would remain in center field.

Bragan now has a full squad of 25 men after operating with 24 last week following the trade with Kansas City in which the Indians exchanged three players for two.

Five of the 25, however, are either fully or partially incapacitated, although one, Billy Harrell, may play third base tonight. The others are pitchers Herb Score and Don Ferrarese, infielder Bob Avila and outfielder Larry Doby.

Bragan picked rookie right-hander Gary Bell as hit pitcher tonight. Bell, who lost his first major league game to the New York Yankees last week after winning twice, made a start in Boston two weeks ago, but was knocked out in the sixth inning.

He will be opposed tonight by Frank Sullivan, another right-hander, who has won four games and lost two.

The Indians would move ahead of the Red Sox in the American League standings with a victory tonight. The Sox, in second place when they left home, have lost five out of six games in the west and are only half a game ahead of the sixth-place Indians.

Both teams were idle Monday.

Summer Cage Loop To Start July 1

The 1958 Summer Basketball League will start Tuesday, July 1, "Rusty" Tomlinson, superintendent of parks and recreation, announced today.

Tomlinson said all persons interested in playing in the league are urged to organize their teams and turn their rosters into the swimming pool office before Saturday. Team rosters are limited to a maximum of 10 players.

No age limit will be observed for the league, which will be played at the Centennial basketball court. All high school varsity basketball players with eligibility left will not be permitted to play in the league, Tomlinson said.

Sydney, Australia — Russell Sands, 133, Australia, outpointed Tom Romulo, 133¼, Philippines, 12. (non-title).

Oriole scouts advise those attending to bring their own suits, gloves and spikes.

New York — Wilfie Greaves, 159, Edmonton, Alta., outpointed Otis Woodard, 161, New York, 10.

Questions and Answers

Q—Why was the new type of flu virus termed Asian flu?

A—Because it originated in Asia.

Q—Was King Philip's War a part of the French and Indian Wars?

A—No. King Phillip's War, so called from the English name for an Indian chief, was a struggle between Colonists and Indians in New England, almost a century before the French and Indian War.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

So fascinating is the daily raising of the vicuna curtain that most of the citizenry have been woolgathering and have overlooked some recent power plays Teamsters chief Jimmy Hoffa — and his new partner, the left-wing Harry Bridges.

Victor Riesel

While folks have been counting overcoats, the unions led by these two angry men have signed a pact which could, some day, paralyze this nation with a joint strike reaching from the mid-Pacific to islands in the Atlantic.

These unions, the Teamsters and the Pacific Coast Longshoremen, have agreed not to sign separately with shippers or warehouse owners. They have agreed that if one union strikes, so will the other. They have agreed never to make a separate peace with employers.

This entente - Cordile could stretch their power from the great concentration of military comand posts in Hawaii to the Brooklyn Army port of embarkation which feeds our bases eastward to Saudi Arabia and northward to the Arctic.

THE PACT, with its secret codicils, for the moment covers only California. But both Teamsters and Longshoremen officials agreed in their secret hotel room sessions that this would be the first test of the country's reaciton to a deal between a union ousted from the AFL-CIO on charges of corruption and another union, the dockwollopers, ousted in 1949 from the CIO on charges of following the Communist line.

This pact was signed with the full knowledge and approval of Jim Hoffa who has met personally with Harry Bridges' aides in the past. At the closed door conferences on the West Coast earlier this week were Hoffa's personal representatives, specially flown in from New York and Washington.

These lieutenants will fly back to New York next week to report to Hoffa on the progress of this first public move towards building the giant transport workers federation which Hoffa warned last year would soon girdle the land.

At almost the very moment that West Coast Teamsters were negotiating directly with Harry Bridges, other aides of Hoffa were coordinating their plans with the East Coast International Longshoremen's Assn., which was also ousted from the AFL in 1953 for being racket - dominated. The Teamsters and the eastern ILA are planning a drive to unionize the Great Lake and Canadian waterfronts.

THESE ARE the meetings we know of on the record. There have been some 14 to 20 secret sessions in New York, Denver, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Washington, Chicago and intermediate points over the past three years. All these forces have at one time or another conferred face to face.

The fact is that with the new pact, the basic agreement will show that the Atlantic Coast dockwallopers, the Teamsters in warehouse field which feeds the docks with vital cargo, and Bridges Pacific Coast Longshoremen, have agreed that they will strike at the same time if a walkout is needed to force employers to yield on demands. If you look closely, you'll see that most contracts at the vital warehouses and docks expire at the same time now.

Mutual assistance agreements are supposed to mutually assist. Against whom? Here's what Harry Bridges said in San Francisco during the last week of July 1957—shortly after Hoffa first revealed his plans to spread-eagle a giant transport federation across the U.S.:

"THERE IS one thing I know, if the Teamsters and the two dock unions got together, they'd represent more economic power than the combined AFL-CIO. They are so concentrated.

An economic squeeze and pressure can be exerted that puts any employer in a very tough spot —and, furthermore, puts the U.S. government on a tough spot.

"If the AFL-CIO meets us head-on, we'd knock the stuffings out of them. We'd fight on their own ground and win."

Forget the charges of corruption and left wingism, for the moment. Even if the leaders of these unions were as pure as driven vicuna, they already represent the greatest concentration of industrial power in the land.

The recent Hawaiian sugar strike, led by Bridges, cost the islands more than 65 million dollars. With the aid of the Teamsters, the Bridges' union now could shut off any airlift to the island outposts — if the teamos refused to haul stuff from warehouses. With the ILA in the combine, it could hit anywhere along the Great Lakes and out to Puerto Rico.

So while you're counting overcoats, don't discount this development. It will be with us longer than this year's supply of vicuna.

The Hall Syndicate

AH! THOSE GOOD OLD DAYS. Kim, a white poodle with his own ideas about modern conveniences, looks wistfully at prop fire hydrant in front of a new luxurious $500 canine comfort station opened in New York City as an experiment. City officials had hoped the double lane enclosure equipped with plumbing might help solve the problem of nuisance on streets and curbs. But it was generally ignored by canine visitors who showed a strong preference for their old stamping grounds.

Washingtonville

Mrs. Louis Atkinson was hostess to the South Side club recently. Mrs. Leslie Tingle and Mrs. Herbert Hartley were guests. Mrs. Joseph Less, Mrs. Howard Stouffer, Mrs. Noran Kornbau and Mrs. Albert Ritchie shared honors in five hundred. Mrs. Ritchie will be the July hostess.

John and Mary Savage's dog Brownie won first prize for the best costumed dog at the Leetonia homecoming. Howard Stouffer III and Ronald Stouffer won first prize for the most unusual pet, a young fox, and the smallest pet, a dachshund puppy. Blue ribbons and prizes were awarded for each animal.

Robert Wayne Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis, was baptized at the Trinity Lutheran Church and Herman Frank was re-instated into the church at the morning services Sunday. A class of young people were confirmed Sunday. Holy Communion will be given next Sunday.
